

Bishop's House

2023 TARIFF INFORMATION

There are three different types of bookings at Bishop's House: individual, small group and exclusive use bookings.

Individual bookings: available during our Open Weeks and on weeks when we have a led program.

Small group bookings: are available for groups of up to 15 people. With a small group booking people will be required to share rooms with others in the group. A charge will be made for single occupancy of a twin room. Unoccupied rooms will be let out separately. Therefore, communal spaces will be shared.

Exclusive use: grants a group full use of the house regardless of their number. No other guests will be able to book into the house at that time. We ask all groups taking exclusive use of the house to provide a Chaplain. The role is simply to take two services a day and be available to other guests in a pastoral role. The Chaplain needs to be ordained in a Christian church and be willing to take services in the Episcopal tradition, using the 1982 Scottish Liturgy. If your group does not have a member of clergy who wishes to undertake this role, we can try to arrange for a Chaplain to be available during your stay. We will, however, have to provide accommodation for them in one of the bedrooms in Bishop's House, reducing the capacity available for your group.

We aim to take bookings from Saturday to Saturday through the main part of the season with shorter stays possible in March and October. Minimum stay is 3 nights.

Comprehensive holiday insurance is strongly recommended for all bookings.
